

Commit to the Crown presents

PAGEANT PREP ON A BUDGET

Tested tips from the experts

WARDROBE

Shop Sales

Post-prom and Black Friday are a great time to check out your local dress stores!

Rent Wardrobe

Love a designer dress or pantsuit for interview? Rent the Runway is a fraction of the cost.

Buy Used

eBay, Mercari and Poshmark have AMAZING deals. Mercari even lets you set alerts. Facebook groups are also another option but be aware of scams!

Book Travel Early

Expedia, Travelocity, and Google Flights are all great websites when booking travel arrangements. Hopper is an app that is also helpful.

TRAVEL

Get A Roommate

A roommate is great way to meet other contestants while also staying on budget.

SERVICES

Follow Your Favorite Brands

Many brands will offer sales and discounts throughout the year to their followers. Join mailing lists and follow your favorite brands on social media for exclusive discounts. .

Approach Sponsors

For potential collaborations, reach out to sponsors no less than 4 months in advance from your pageant. Be prepared to offer your time, energy or expertise in exchange for

COACHING

Group Coaching

If private coaching is not in your budget, consider group workshops or partner coaching where you can learn in a small group.

Free Resources

Commit to the Crown offers a monthly freebie as well as a Tip Tuesday.. More free resources are listed on the Commit to the Crown Website.

ENTRY

Register Early

Early registration may allow you to save on entry fees and to also help share some of the many expenses associated with pageant prep. .

